

Hope Lutheran Church

November 2023

From the Pastor,

I attended a Nebraska Synod workshop on IDEA. It's about reaching out to members of the church and inviting them to use their talents in the local church and perhaps in the Synod or ELCA. It might be inviting people to consider professional ministry.

When I came home my wife asked me how the workshop went. I had not processed it well yet but I could give an honest answer. "It was not a waste of my time." I believe at this stage in my life that is the best compliment I can give to anyone. It was not a waste of my time. I may not be able to express what I learned or received from my attendance at the meeting but it was worthwhile being there and I did not waste my time. At my age I do not have a lot of time to waste.

A pastor friend at Synod gathering of pastors always asks why do we or our congregations worship. Seems like a silly question to me and he does not like the simple answer, "because my week does not feel right if I fail to attend worship and worship God." The wisdom of my age knows there is more behind that answer. Most people do not want to answer with a long paragraph of reasons, but they could if push came to shove.

I think I now understand children when they say church is boring. It can be if you do not participate in the worship. It can be if you do not enjoy the company of the people worshiping with you. It can be boring if you think you can spend your time better doing something else. Of course, maturity sees that worship is not a waste of time but an important time to be renewed in God's Holy Spirit so one can serve God during the week. It is a time not to focus on self.

Here is to not wasting time with you in worship on Sunday.

Pastor Jim

GO AND BE HONEST: This is the theme for November. This adds to what we are already doing: pray, listen, share your story, serve with neighbor, and ask. the call to be honest with God, ourselves, and our neighbor. To ask honest questions and to answer questions honestly. To be honest is to be authentic. But we must not confuse sharing our opinions, whether asked for or not, with being honest.

Church Seasons: This is the last month in the Church season of Time After Pentecost. While the focus is still on learning to live my life as a child of God there will be two festival Sundays to warm us up for the beginning of the church year.

Thankoffering Service: Hope Lutheran will be observing the annual WELCA sponsored Thankoffering Service November 19th with an offering basket placed in the entry. This was a program originally started by church women using small "mite" boxes in which they placed coins remembering their daily blessings through the year. We now dedicate one Sunday a year to remember the blessings we receive daily throughout the year by placing our offering in the basket. Anyone may contribute an offering to remember the many blessings we receive daily.

GO AND...

Spiritual Practice: Praying with Questions

"Remain in me as I remain in you. Just as the branch cannot bear fruit from itself unless it remain in the vine...if you remain in me and my words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it shall happen for you."

Selected words from Jesus in John 15:4,7

Formative Practice:

1. Quiet yourself - body, heart and mind - and be aware (or become more aware) of God's Presence and your own.
2. Interiorly offer a prayer, such as, "Holy Spirit/Breath, guide me into your truth. May I be transformed into Christlikeness today..."
3. Reflect on the above scripture. Listen as though Jesus is speaking this to you slowly and lovingly.
4. Breathe in concert with Jesus through his Holy Spirit/Breath
 - a. breathing in: Holy
 - b. Breathing out: Spirit or Breath
5. Abide. When distracted, come back to "Holy Spirit" or "Holy Breath"
6. When finished: Ask Jesus what he longs for you to know (about yourself, God, your life, calling or whatever comes up for you). If you feel safe and comfortable to do this, let God ask you questions in return...
